About Membership

The Marian Anderson Music Guild is the South Jersey Chapter of the National Association of Negro Musicians (NANM). NANM members use this organization as a vehicle to network with musicians throughout the nation, leverage these contacts to expand their performance opportunities, attend training seminars and workshops, experience performances by world renowned artists and discover talented and dynamic young artists.

Membership dues supports the operations of the NANM organization at the national level, the regional level (Eastern Region) and the local chapter (MAMG). MAMG works aggressively to increase awareness of the Negro Spiritual, promote the music of African American composers, increase the funding level for the scholarship program, educate participants with informative workshops and entertain audiences with exceptional programs.

Annual dues covers participation in the national, regional and local organizations. The break down is as follows:
